Inspiring book

By New Connexion Journal

What if business was fun, and you could make money? Simone Milasas had been a world traveler, finding exotic wares from India, Thailand and Nepal to sell at local markets in Australia, her home country. Along the way, she discovered the powerful tools of Access Consciousness, which led her to her joyful outlook on tapping into the flow of energy in life, rather than judging and resisting. Positive and empowering, Milasas isn't a big business guru -- she's a woman who's devoted her life to asking questions that open her business up to infinite possibilities. She uses simple but thought provoking questions to keep her business moving forward: How does it get any better than this? Does the business desire to change? What could we institute today to create more for now and the future? Through her own experience with starting companies, Milasas has found that money follows joy -- joy doesn't follow money. This inspiring book changes the way you view doing business, making joy a potent factor of success.

How does it get any better than this..?

By Majken Moeller

I have my own business and after reading this book and also listening to the audio book, my business is starting to do better. I understand my points of views better and see where I sometimes stagnate. Then I ask questions and suddenly there is a better flow in my business again.

Thanks Simone for sharing!

The book is best understood if you are familiar with Access Consciousness. So if you don't know what that is - do some research :-)

It will change your life!
